Explosions, Fire Sweep Haifa Waterfront As British Troops Transfer Jews To Transport

Immigrants Rescued From Sinking Vessel

JERUSALEM, Monday, March 31 (AP)—Explosions and flames swept the Haifa waterfront today as British troops transferred to Cyprus-bound transports the first of nearly 1,600 uncertified Jewish immigrants rescued a few hours earlier from a distressed refugee ship.

Fires following the explosions raged in the port area about two miles from the docks where the immigrants were being put aboard the transports by British troops carrying pick handles.

A quarter-mile area was burning in the neighborhood of installations of the Consolidated Refineries and Shell Oil Company. Apparently flames were raging along the Shell Company feeder lines from the Consolidated refinery.

Schooner Sinks Out 808
The visa-less immigrants close brush with death came yesterday 30 miles off the Palestine coast when the schooner seeking to bring them to Palestine developed a dangerous list and began taking water.

The schooner, named Moledeh (Hebrew for "Fatherland") and formerly called the San Felipe, sent out a distress message. British naval vessels, which had been shadowing the Moledeh through the Eastern Mediterranean, raced to the scene and removed 750 of the passengers crammed on the schooner's decks.

This action was believed to have averted a major disaster. When the distress message was intercepted by radio receivers there, 60,000 Jewish residents blacked out their section of the port city as a gesture of sympathy. British troops immediately took up defense positions awaiting the arrival of the refugees.

Accommodations For 30
The explosions occurred after a British destroyer brought 400 of the 750 immigrants removed from the Moledeh. The rest of the refugees were following on another destroyer.

The schooner was being towed to Haifa by a minesweeper. The Moledeh, built in 1876, has normal passenger accommodations for 30 persons. When British sailors came alongside to aid her, they found 1,550 passengers jammed into the ship.

Engineers from a British destroyer boarded the Moledeh with pumps and removed a considerable amount of water which it had been taking rapidly.

The Moledeh committee then asked for a tow into Haifa and a British minesweeper was provided for that purpose.

A British spokesman said the Moledeh was a schooner with "normal" passenger accommodations for 30 persons. When the British ships reached it, they found 1,550 passengers on the Moledeh.

Iceland Volcano Belches Clouds Of Ashes, Fumes

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, March 30 (AP)—Dense clouds of ashes and fumes, reaching a height of six or seven miles, poured out of blazing Mount Hekla today, blanketing a wide area to the south.

The 4,765-foot volcano erupted yesterday for the first time since 1845.

The peak was ablaze clear across the top, and thousands of tons of glowing boulders were being tossed high into the air. Nearby houses were shaken.

Preparations were completed to evacuate residents of farms in the vicinity, if such a move should become necessary.

Ex-Congressman Dies

PITTSBURGH, March 30 (AP)—Former Republican Congressman Michael J. Muldowney, 57, whose election in 1932 precipitated a federal vote fraud investigation, died today.

14 Of Trapped Miners Lived Long Enough To Write Notes To Families

CENTRALIA, Ill., March 30 (AP)—Driscoll A. Scanlan, state mine inspector, said today that at least 14 of the 111 miners who died as a result of an explosion in the Centralia Coal Company's No. 5 mine last Tuesday lived long enough to write notes to their families.

Notes were found by rescue crews Scanlan said, which indicated some of the trapped miners lived until Tuesday. The time of the blast has been established at 3:27 p. m. (CST) Tuesday.

One note, Scanlan related, was from a man to his wife, asking that their children be sure to go to church.

Another note was signed "Ray Buehner" with his nickname "Hub" scrawled on the top. Beneath it was an illegible line and then the words:

"God bless you all."
Rescue workers said the notes were discovered on the last group

Bombay Riot Toll Placed At 40 Dead

Police End Disorders By Firing Into Crowds

BOMBAY, Monday, March 31—(AP)—Forty persons were killed and 137 wounded yesterday in communal riots that broke out in four different sections of Bombay, the provincial director of information announced today.

Similar riots occurred in greater Calcutta and Cawnpore, causing at least nine deaths and more than 50 other casualties.

The Bombay disorders between Hindus and Moslems were brought under control only after police fired into crowds in various sections of the city on 19 occasions. A curfew was put into effect to clear the streets of the rioters.

A. A. Caffen, Bombay chief of police, said the local military organization had been ordered to stand by for duty later today when the curfew is lifted.

Newsmen touring Bombay streets saw Caffen's police rifle and Lathi (long staff) squads move into areas where screaming rioters abandoned their activities and fled, leaving only the litter of disorders under the light of overhead gas lights.

Rumors as to the cause of the fighting, all of them unconfirmed, swept the city immediately. The report receiving the most circulation was that a funeral procession of one community had attacked a house of worship of another, but the stories varied as to which community had made the attack.

One hospital reported it had received seven persons suffering from stab wounds, one of whom died.

Elkton Man Slain In Triple Shooting

ELKTON, Md., March 30 (AP)—A triple shooting resulted today in the death of one 22-year-old Elkton man and injuries to his mother and a young married woman, State's attorney Henry Constable reported.

He said that Frank Weglar, 29, of Elk Neck, was being held in connection with the death of Leonard Kist. He identified the injured women as Mrs. Lydia Kist, 53, the dead man's mother, and a friend, Mrs. Dorothy Colburn.

Constable said a murder charge would be lodged against Weglar tomorrow.

The state's attorney gave the following account of the shooting: Weglar went to the Kist home around 8 a. m. today, engaged in an argument with Mrs. Colburn, and followed her to an upstairs bedroom to continue his pleading.

When Kist entered the room to stop the argument, Weglar whipped out a .38 caliber pistol and shot him through the heart.

Albert Kist, brother of Leonard, said that when he rushed to the scene, Mrs. Colburn and his mother were wrestling with Weglar, both women already wounded.

The two women were treated at Union Memorial Hospital in Elkton and later released.

French Unity Upheld

BRUNEAU, France, March 30 (AP)—Gen. De Gaulle, emerging from a self-imposed retirement, placed a stone for a monument to Allied parachute troop raiders here today and, in a speech, upheld French unity as the nation's greatest asset.

Broadcast "Sabotage" Blamed On Technician

MUNICH, Germany, March 30 (AP)—Edward Kerrigan, manager of the United States radio relay station here, said today he believed some technician employed at the station was responsible for the "sabotaging" of recent "Voice of America" broadcasts to Russia.

Kerrigan said the broadcasts had gone astray "on several occasions" because the unidentified saboteur had directed the beams toward countries other than Russia. He declined to say on what occasions the broadcasts had been misdirected.

The manager declared that a complete investigation was being made, and that a full report had been sent to Washington.

Most Remaining Wartime Controls End Tonight

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Most of the remaining wartime controls go out the window at midnight tomorrow.

The draft act dies. The Solid Fuels Administration shuts up shop. Emergency controls over trucking and shipping lines end. All but a small segment of the Second War Powers Act expires.

HELD FOR MURDER—Three soldiers from Fort Knox, Ky., waived examining trial at Hazard, Ky., on murder charges in connection with the death of Vernon Hodge, 26, Louisville, Ky., ex-paratrooper whose body was recovered from Kentucky River. County Judge Taylor Witt said the trio—Herbert Workman, 17, Tulsa, W. Va.; Jasper Nease, 21, McRoberts, Ky.; and Daniel McPeak, 21, Dublin, Va., (left to right) will be held without bond pending grand jury action June 2.

Lillenthal Foes Say Move To Hold Up Action Grows

Sen. Hill Predicts Defeat Of Motion

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) today claimed growing support for a move to delay action on the Lillenthal nomination pending an FBI check and said that at least two senators publicly in favor of confirmation will go along with it.

"We're much stronger on that question than we are on the issue of actual confirmation or rejection," he declared, without naming the two senators.

But Sen. Hill (Ala.), the Democratic whip, predicted in a separate interview that "the Senate will vote down that motion and then confirm the nominees."

The test for David E. Lillenthal and the other nominees for the Atomic Energy Commission will come in a motion made by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to send the nominations of Lillenthal and the other four commission members and that of Carroll L. Wilson as General manager back to the Senate Atomic Committee for FBI investigation.

To date, 49 senators have announced that they will support the nominations of Lillenthal and his colleagues, while 27 have taken a public stand against them.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), is to take the floor tomorrow to argue for acceptance of the appointments. Leaders are pushing for a vote by Thursday night, after which the Senate may take an Easter recess.

Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, hopes to have the bill for President Truman's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkey aid program ready for Senate consideration then.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee also will end hearings on the President's program this week. The House measure is not expected to reach the floor until after the Easter recess.

Broadcast "Sabotage" Blamed On Technician

MUNICH, Germany, March 30 (AP)—Edward Kerrigan, manager of the United States radio relay station here, said today he believed some technician employed at the station was responsible for the "sabotaging" of recent "Voice of America" broadcasts to Russia.

The manager declared that a complete investigation was being made, and that a full report had been sent to Washington.

No Progress Is Made At Phone Negotiations

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Telephone union and industry representatives met jointly with a federal conciliator today in negotiations directed toward preventing a telephone strike but Union President John J. Moran said afterward there was "a stalemate on both sides." He added, "It looks very much as though we'd walk out at 6 a. m., April 7, as planned."

Most Remaining Wartime Controls End Tonight

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Most of the remaining wartime controls go out the window at midnight tomorrow.

Turkey, More Than Greece, Key To Any Move To Halt Communism, Wilson Says

Instrument Failure Gives Scores Aboard Big Airliner Scare

BOSTON, March 30 (AP)—An American Airlines four-engine plane glided safely into Logan International Airport tonight and discharged 56 passengers who had remained unruffled for 40 minutes while the pilot made calm preparations for a crash landing.

The big DC-4 was about to land after a non-stop trip from Washington, D. C., when Pilot Capt. Royce Ellis said a panel instrument failed to register the lowering and locking of its landing gear.

Ellis said he informed the passengers of the situation, then as a precautionary measure radioed for fire trucks, ambulances and other emergency vehicles to stand by at the field.

Assembly Slated To Adjourn Today

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 30 (AP)—With sine die adjournment just a day away, the 1947 session of the Maryland Legislative Council will adjourn today.

Some $150,000, of the $400,000,000 funds asked by Mr. Truman would go to Turkey, all for military purposes.

Wilson was quoted as testifying that the Russians have made it necessary for the Turks to maintain a large force by keeping their troops on the Turkish border but have not directly molested Turkey.

Few Communists In Turkey
Senators said the Ambassador reported that Turkey, unlike Greece, has few Communists within her borders and is not facing any internal upheaval unless the government should become too weak financially.

Lincoln MacVeagh, United States ambassador to Greece, was said to have told committee members in the same session that the Communists are even stronger within Greece than had been supposed from reports reaching this country.

There King George's government is battling armed Communist guerrillas reputedly trained and equipped outside the country. MacVeagh's testimony also is expected to be made public later by the committee.

Tax Deduction Study

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 30 (AP)—The Maryland Legislative Council was instructed today to study the feasibility of a law allowing taxpayers to deduct amounts paid for federal income tax from the earnings computed for the income levy.

Import Coal, Britain Urged

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—The Federation of British Industries urged Britain today to import 10,000,000 tons of coal from the United States or South Africa "without reducing the quantities being shipped for the relief of Europe."

Soldier, War Hero Under Assumed Name, Declared Deserter By Army

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—A soldier who, tiring of routine garrison duties at West Point, left the Army, re-enlisted in the paratroopers under an assumed name and became a World War II hero in France, has been declared a deserter by the Army, his attorney said today.

The attorney, Anthony F. Caffrey, reported that James Minker, 25, of Syracuse, was found guilty by a court-martial of desertion from May 5, 1942, to July 23, 1946, and was sentenced to two years of hard labor and given a dishonorable discharge.

The attorney said he would ask the War Department to review the case so he can present all the facts. During the years Minker was accused of being a deserter, according to Caffrey, he actually was in Europe, under the name of James H. Rawley, serving with the paratroop-

Secretary Of SCPA Assails John Lewis For Calling "Strike"

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 30 (AP)—The secretary of the Southern Coal Producers Association labeled John L. Lewis' order for a six-day mine shutdown a "strike" today and said it was a "peculiar method of paying respect to the dead."

Walter Thurmond, Charleston, said a statement that Lewis, in suspending mining as a memorial to the Centralia, Ill., explosion victims, "is only attempting to show the country his complete and unbridled control over the actions and lives of the 400,000 members of his union."

"He challenges the government and defies its courts and laws," Thurmond said.

Lewis' Shutdown Call Not Mentioned

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Krug today promised a speedy report to Congress on coal mine safety and declared that meanwhile he will engage in no "controversy over the (Centralia) catastrophe or its causes."

Without direct mention of John L. Lewis' call for a six-day shutdown of the nation's soft coal mines this week in mourning for the 111 victims of the Centralia, Ill., explosion, Krug said that "the facts will be known only upon the completion of the several investigations" under way.

Lewis Wants Krug Ousted
The United Mine Workers chief accused Krug of "criminal negligence" as Federal Coal Mines Administrator on the ground that he failed to enforce safety standards.

Krug today issued this statement: "The tragic explosion at Centralia mine No. 5 has claimed 111 victims, leaving their bereaved families without their support."

"My sympathy for them is too profound to permit me to debate or to gloss over their misery by engaging in any press controversy over the catastrophe or its causes."

"The facts will be known only upon the completion of the several investigations" under way by the special Senate committee, by the special board appointed by the Governor of Illinois, and by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior.

As soon as possible I shall transmit to Chairman Guy Cordon, of the Senate Committee, a report on the overall safety conditions in American soft coal mines and, so far as they are now known, in the Centralia mine.

Officials Scrutinize Situation
Sen. Cordon (R-Ore.) is chairman of a Senate Public Lands Subcommittee appointed to investigate mine safety.

As reports from the coal fields indicated the miners are going to comply with Lewis' call for a shutdown starting Tuesday, officials began a careful scrutiny of the situation.

Some government officials who declined to be quoted by name said the miners are going to halt the work stoppage is expected. But both Attorney General Clark and John F. Sonnett, assistant attorney general who handled the Lewis case in court, declined to commit themselves as to whether Lewis will be in the clear on his action until they have studied it further. Sonnett told a reporter he has formed no opinion yet.

Eight Of Family Perish In Blaze

CAMDEN, N. J., March 30 (AP)—A mother, six of her 14 children, and a grandson were burned to death early today in a fire that swept their home and damaged four adjoining residences.

Six other members of the family of Andrew Johnson escaped from the burning house. Three children were absent from home at the time.

The dead were identified at Cooper Hospital as Mrs. Gladys Johnson, 40; two sons, Lawrence, 8, and Howard, 9; four daughters, Mary, three months old; Pauline, 5 years; Catherine, 7; Susan, 18; and the grandson, Frederick, two months. All were negroes.

Remains of the two homes on either side were forced to flee as the fast-spreading flames raged through the Johnson house shortly before 5 a. m. (EST).

Dennis Fire Chief Walter Mertz said he learned that James Johnson, 15, had gone to a shed adjoining the rear of the home to light the five kerosene burners of a bake oven and shouted an alarm to other members of the family when he saw flames following the feed line to the fuel storage tank.

Legislators Kill Proposed Tax On Billboards Amusement Device Tariff Substituted

An Allegany County delegation measure proposing a tax of $10 on billboards in the county was killed by the delegation which substituted in its place a provision to enable the County Commissioners to levy a tax on amusement devices, including slot machines, Horace P. Whitworth, delegation chairman, said last night.

The measure taxing billboards was introduced March 19 and referred to the delegation, which amended it by striking out the billboard tax provisions. Whitworth said, and substituted the amusement device tax enabling act.

Patterned after Anne Arundel County, the measure would enable the county to tax slot machines, pin-ball machines, and other amusement devices. Whitworth referred to the enabling act as a "home rule" measure. He said it is patterned after an Anne Arundel County law and cited the fact that Anne Arundel Circuit Court judges ruled that slot machines are amusement devices and may be taxed under that county law.

Whitworth also reported that he has not learned definitely yet what excise taxes Sen. Robert B. Kimble proposes to gain revenue for the county in place of that which would have been received through a proposed but killed measure to set up a wholesale liquor dispensary.

A Kimble at first proposed taxes on liquor, wine and beer, but last night Whitworth said he believes the Senator now may confine the tax to liquor alone.

On Saturday, Orville L. Young, president of Brewery Workers Local No. 265, and G. William Bibby, president and general manager of the Cumberland Brewing Company, issued statements opposing the suggested tax on beer, pointing out that the industry already is heavily taxed and that Sen. Kimble's proposal threatened the life of the industry in this community.

Bills Of Interest

Bills of interest to Western Maryland that have been signed by Gov. Lane include:

Allowing non-property holders to run for mayor or council in Cumberland; authorizing up to $60,000 water system bonds for Frostburg; authorizing $25,000 Frostburg street improvement bonds; making divorces possible after three years of separation; eliminating tax exemptions on manufacturing companies in Cumberland; setting Allegany county commissioners' clerk pay at $10 a day for work on tax assessment reviews; requiring that appointees to the Upper Potomac River Commission be residents of Allegany and Garrett counties.

Church records show the building was abandoned by the congregation during that period and there is a break in the records of the church for several months. The congregation, some of them at least, worshipped in the First Baptist Church on Bedford Street. After the Civil War ended the church was repaired and again used for a time.

The government paid the congregation $2,000 for damages done the buildings during its military occupation. Miss McCormick remembers that the minister at the time she joined church, was Rev. J. D. Fitzgerald, who was a great friend of her family.

She mentioned other names long since forgotten, such as "The Plaid Family," the Seymours, Thomas Shryer, church board secretary, Mr. Gephart and Dr. Jim Smith whose daughter Carrie Smith was a Sunday School teacher.

Miss McCormick remembered the name of her own Sunday School teacher, "Laura Paulk, of Paulk's Mills where the battle of Paulk's Mills was fought."

She remembered too that it was many years before the church or Sunday School had any kind of hymn books. The hymns were printed or lettered on a large affair which was turned with a crank. And as the crank was turned, the chart unrolled and the congregation read the words and sang the hymn. She said, "Dr. Jim Smith lead the singing, and I can see him yet, standing up there turning that crank and unrolling the chart while we all sang as loud as we could."

Remember Many Events

Miss McCormick recalled many interesting things. She remembered how her home, where she still lives, was used by General Kelly and General Cook for office headquarters, during the Civil War, and how the beautiful marble mantels there were covered to prevent them from being damaged or hauled away. She recalls how a celebration had been planned at the end of war, April 9, 1865, and word reached Cumberland about April 15. Candles were placed in the windows and flags were made ready to hang out. But when the decorations were about to go up, word came that President Lincoln had been shot on April 14, and died April 15. The house was draped in mourning.

Keen of mind, and interesting to talk with, Miss McCormick is most active for her advanced years. She is a little proud of her age, standing "it is a wonderful blessing to live to be 90 and see so many things happen. It is a wonderful thing."

She keeps trying to remember where the church got the communion wafer, and she held one of the cups and gently brushed her hand over the silver wine pitcher. She shook her head and said, "they had it as long as I can remember, and I don't know where it came from."

So like the mystery of the wine that fills the cup, the origin of the silver communion service, long since discarded for the individual service, remains hidden in the darkness of the past. Yet its beauty remains. Its beauty and its simplicity, its memories, and the great symbolism it stands for remain.

It is a treasure. It holds the prayers and thoughts of the little band which struggled to found the local church and the local community. On the rim of these cups, lips have uttered prayers for strength and guidance through national crisis, through community trials, through individual pains and misfortunes. Lips that are now stilled by Time, expressed their belief and devotion, and prayed to make the way better and easier for the way followed.

Plan Special Service

The church board, according to Rev. Eisenberger plans to have a suitable cabinet built for the communion set, where it can be properly displayed.

He also said that a special service is being planned for May 18, the 75th anniversary of Miss McCormick's confession of faith as the oldest member. When Miss McCormick was informed that Rev. Eisenberger was planning a special anniversary service for her, she exclaimed, "I don't go out any more and haven't been to church for a long time, but you tell him for me, I'll be there."

Wisconsin ruffed grouse are definitely climbing from the depths of a cycle of scarcity, the conservation department declares in a report on game conditions in the state.

Listen World

By ELISIE ROBINSON

Someone once said that if there had not been a Christ men would still have to imagine one because of their great need.

There can no longer be a doubt that once there was a real and human Christ. History attests that. And never had men needed Him more because never was this world in such peril and such pain.

And never was there a man who knew so poignantly the pain, the loneliness and black despair which we humans must endure.

This Easter week—into it Christ compressed all the heights and depths which the average man experiences in all his life. He knew the adulation of the mob. He knew, beyond all doubt, that that same mob would turn against Him before the week was done. He knew, crucifixion, death, dying flesh. Worse yet, He knew that even those who loved Him most would deny Him in their hour of fear.

And these things in their turn, happen to all of us. We may be saved the barbarous death upon a Roman cross. But there are other crosses which are just as hard for flesh and soul to bear. And to each of us who dares to live at all there come bleak hours of doubt and fear—and long Gethsemanes.

So to each man, of whatever race or creed—or even lacking any creed—this Easter week is holy. Because one man, 2000 years ago, endured in one short week the blows which all of us must know.

He was a young man but He saw His short life ended before His time.

He was a proud man, yet He stood unflinching beneath the whip, the cross of thorns.

He was a loving man, but He saw His love betrayed.

He was a human man, sharing all our hate of pain, and yet because of that which He believed, He faced unflinching the cruelest agony on earth.

He was not just a Jew, in those last dark days—someone we can dismiss as an apart. He was all men and carried all men's pain.

He was the answer to all our fumbling dreams, our secret hungers and our hidden fears and our final sacrifices.

These days are holy when we follow in His trail.

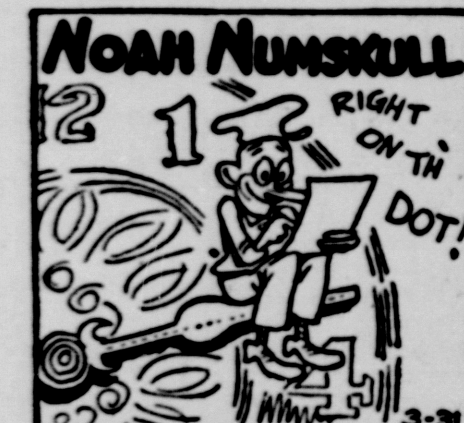

It's not so hard to live—or die—where He's gone ahead.

Advice To The Lovelorn

20 Years With Inconsiderate Husband

Calls For Action, Not Scolding

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Twenty years is a long time to let any unpleasant situation ride without doing anything decisive to try to better it.

Unfortunately, many women with "problem husbands" apparently think they are doing something, when they scold and nag and quarrel, to get the husband to change his ways. But scolding is rarely decisive, and hardly ever settles anything. Nor are tears and pleadings. Some sort of action is usually necessary to solve a difficult marital problem.

Such action does not necessarily have to consist of leaving the difficult husband. Sometimes it simply means that the wife revise her own program and adopt a new one. I think the dissatisfied wife who writes me the following letter needs to decide which course of action—whether to leave her husband or to revise her own program—would best solve her problem. As a matter of fact, she seems to have made up her mind pretty definitely that she wishes to leave him, perhaps not having thought that she might adopt any alternative.

After stating that she has been married 20 years, and that in all that time she and her husband have never agreed on much of anything, she goes on to explain her chief grievances.

One is that, when she is ill, her husband is annoyed and unsympathetic. He doesn't want her to have a doctor, complaining about the cost, and he goes off and leaves her to take care of herself. Another grievance is that her mother-in-law is critical and rude to her, and her husband sides with his mother against his wife. The third difficulty, and I should think the most serious of all, is that he has affairs with other women.

Driven to desperation by all this, she once left her husband, but returned to him on his promise to mend his ways, which, of course, he never did. Now, she says, "I would like to know your opinion as to whether I should continue living with him or not. I don't think I should. I know I could live without him and be better satisfied, although once I would have died for him."

If this woman's mind is made up as definitely as it seems to be, then all she wants from me, I suppose, is an opinion which would back up the decision she has already made. But if she is really looking for suggestions, then my idea would be that she might at least consider the alternative—that of reconstructing her own program of living—before leaving her husband for good.

I am not necessarily advising her or a year, to make the experiment. Instead of merely staying at home and accepting the very poor deal she is apparently getting, she might interest herself in various types of activities in the community. She might even take some sort of job which would keep her away from home enough so that she could get outside of her problem for a certain number of hours a day. She says she is a "nervous wreck," but it might well be that, if she took on some interesting work, it would help her nervous condition very much, for undoubtedly a good deal of it is due to her intense preoccupation with her troubles.

Any woman who genuinely wants to change her mode of life can usually do so. Of course, it is more difficult if she lives in a small town where opportunities for outside work and other interests are more limited. But if this woman would like to write me again and tell me just what sort of town she lives in, I could perhaps give her more specific suggestions.

HOLY COMBAT

And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple. John 2:15. Read Mark 11:15-18.

The climax has come. The burning wrath of Jesus which has long been accumulating can no longer permit the holy place of his Father to be desecrated by grafters. The victimizing of his beloved friends by their own priests has become intolerable. "The odds are hopelessly against him—his opponents control everything." Does a man think of himself when his soul burns with righteous indignation? "They will kill him." He knew this before he came to Jerusalem. For this hour he has lived. It is the heart of his battle for God and man. The whip is in his hand, and the money changers

A funeral service for Elmer E. Coates, 70, Route 2, who died Monday in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, Md., was held in the Baptist Church, Fort Ashby Road, by Rev. Ward Hibbs, Romney. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Palbearers were John and William Lease, Sam Smith, Charles Anderson, Earl Spencer and Victor Yokum.

Foodhandlers To Attend Clinic
All Mineral County foodhandlers are required to attend a chest X-ray clinic to be held in the gymnasium of Potomac State School April 9 and 10, W. P. Waller, senior sanitarian, announces.

X-ray plates will be made by the Mobile Unit of the State Department of health from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. both days. No charge will be made for this service.

While it is important for all of us to know whether or not our lungs are free from tuberculosis, it is doubly important in the case of the diseased dairyman or restaurant employee, who may infect hundreds of his customers unless removed from this line of work, Waller points out.

Easter Vacations
Potomac State School will begin Friday, April 4, and continue until 8 a. m. Tuesday, April 8.

Easter vacation for Mineral County Schools will begin Friday, April 4, and extend until Tuesday, April 8, it was announced by Superintendent H. L. Idleman.

Most of the temperance societies of the world have struck prohibition off their practical reform programs.

FAMILY MESSAGE NUMBER 15

Wait a minute, Son!

You're burning up YOUR FUTURE!

Don't let your child quit school if you can possibly afford to keep him there, is the advice of this distinguished authority on youth

"Are you a high school graduate?"

"More and more, today," says Dr. Willard E. Givens, Executive Secretary of the National Education Association, "that question is being asked of young men and women applying for positions. All too often the answer is, 'No.'"

"Gradeschool and high school in America are free to everyone, yet many boys and girls start life without all the education they could have.

"Most of us want our children to have as much education as possible. But even when schooling is free, there are certain expenses such as food, clothing, bus fare, athletic equipment, and pocket money. Too often after the boy or girl is no longer required by law to go to school there is a temptation to let him say 'Why not quit, and start earning a little money?'"

Every extra year counts

"But every extra year that your child can stay in high school, trade school or college is an important asset to him in afterlife. Of course, if he is to follow a profession, he will require not only college but two or more years of postgraduate training.

"All this costs money. It will mean sacrifices. But parents have learned that by starting to set aside a little money regularly while the child is quite young, a fund for education will be on hand when needed. Many families have found it easiest to do this systematically with special educational life insurance.

"No matter what method is used, making provision out of the family money to keep children in school as long as possible is one of the most rewarding things that parents can do."

Look for Family Message No. 16 in this newspaper, about two weeks from now.

HOW TO PLAN FOR FAMILY HAPPINESS

Regardless of the size of income, any family can have more happiness and fewer worries by planning the use of the family money.

First: provide in advance for payments coming due, such as rent, taxes, mortgage charges, life insurance and other insurance. The easiest way is to bank small amounts each payday that will add up to the totals when due.

Second: set aside something extra each payday in the savings account until you build up an emergency fund.

Then you know what is left to spend on everyday family needs such as food, clothing, recreation—and what you can afford to set aside for such future family plans as a new home, education, travel.

Because the life insurance companies and their agents have long helped people to plan for family security and happiness, they are conducting this program of information as a public service to the 73,000,000 owners of life insurance and to every American family.

New Era For Bituminous Coal About To Be Born

Here's good news for the coal mining industry as well as for those who will be called upon to curb smoke if the anti-smoke ordinance now languishing in the City Hall is ever brought to light, and passed. It is about conversion of vast quantities of coal into gas, gasoline, oil and alcohol. It may prove to be the biggest industrial news in many months. First of all, it involves a revolution in the use of America's greatest natural resources—bituminous coal. This nation has about half of the world's known coal supplies—enough to last more than 2,500 years.

This conversion brings within sight the long-time dream of chemists and engineers—the distribution of coal either in a liquid or gas form. That alone means more efficient use, much less waste and the utilization of far more of the myriad products which come from coal.

It makes coal the source of both gasoline and oil, and removes them from the class of "competitive" fuels. Not only will this protect our dwindling oil reserves and give America vast new military strength, but it will revive the coal industry and open tremendous new fields for the employment of coal miners.

As a by-product (but a vital one for Cumberland) it brings within practical and undisputed solution our dream—the elimination of the smoke evil without any injury to the coal industry. The development of this great new fuel will first be engaged in in Pittsburgh, a close enough market for any surplus coal that can be dug from the hills in the Georges Creek region. Such an undertaking as coal "gasification" process for the first time can put coal mining on an efficient basis. Because it will use all types of coal from dust to lump, unsorted and untreated, the surpluses of various grades which have plagued the industry and often forced it into the red, will be eliminated.

As pointed out by Fortune Magazine, coal not only is our greatest resource but our dependence on it is growing. Yet coal has been the most wasteful and inefficient and old-fashioned of all our industries. We do not mine it efficiently or transport it economically or burn it sensibly.

But the disclosure on conversion is the first big-scale commercial move to change that situation. It's less spectacular than the story of the atomic bomb, but its industrial effects may be more revolutionary. This revolutionary development in the distribution and burning of coal will have national implications. It easily can be the greatest business development in many generations.

Perhaps the world can exist half communist and half capitalist, but Moscow now knows that it will never exist wholly communist.

Truman Campaign Given Obvious Start By Doctor

President Truman, according to his personal physician, General Wallace Graham, is an "iron man." The obvious comment is that the 1948 Presidential campaign now has been launched.

But there is no doubt that the presidency of the United States has become a man-killing job. In the days before Wilson it wasn't so bad. The federal government had not intervened in every activity of the daily lives of the people. Federal expenditures were 3 per cent of what they are today.

John Adams lived to be 90. Madison died at 85. Jefferson at 83. John Quincy Adams at 80. Van Buren and Jackson at 78. But since then few Presidents have achieved the life expectancy they had when they were inaugurated.

In this century, according to Census Bureau figures for life expectancy, Taft was the only President who achieved his expectancy at inauguration—aside from Hoover, who is still alive.

Theodore Roosevelt was inaugurated when he was 42. The average life expectancy for that age is 28. T. R. lived only 18 years after his inauguration. But T. R. drove himself harder than do most men.

Wilson should have lived 18 years after his inauguration. He lasted only 11. Harding lasted only two years. Coolidge lasted nine of the 21 he had a right to expect. Franklin Roosevelt lived 12 years instead of the 21 a man of 51 should look forward to. But he was a semi-invalid, whose physician described him as in robust health less than a year before his death.

The administrative reorganization bill, with its provisions for "assistant presidents" and other devices to take some of the burden off a chief executive, may have changed the situation. But it is just as well that Mr. Truman is an "iron man." And it wouldn't be a bad idea for Republicans to test prospective Presidential candidates for 1948 for iron.

If, as a military leader says, the time will come when this nation will maintain military bases on Mars, the remnants it watches certainly will be scattered.

Twinkle, Twinkle . . .

The universe has been permitted to run down. A lot of refurbishing is needed. It will be necessary to repaint the sky, to clean up the whole solar system, brighten the sun, dust and polish the planets. To give the Zodiac a fresh coat of paint. To give the stars a gayer twinkle, and replenish the Milky Way.

A human quarrel on this fifth-rate planet has caused the universe to be neglected and officials of the Hayden Planetarium in New York are doing a restoration job. Would that the face of this raddled planet could be lifted as easily!

Washington's cherry trees, although beautiful, bear no fruit. Similar to promises to cut income taxes 20 per cent, that is.

Housing Progress

It has been noted that the new Congressional Directory contains the biography of only one lawmaker who boasts of having been born in a log cabin. And therein we see the domiciliary evolution of the American citizen.

Once upon a time his potential path was from log cabin to White House. Currently the average infant's best prospect is from hospital ward to quonset hut.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DIAGNOSTIC INSTRUMENTS
PHYSICIANS have many handy gadgets to help in diagnosis and treatment. The names are not difficult as the word "scope" (meaning, to inspect or view) is usually prefaced by the organ to be studied. Thus, for the eyes, we have the ophthalmoscope; the ears, the otoscope; the pharynx, the pharyngoscope; the colon, the sigmoidoscope; and the bladder, the cystoscope.

The gastroscope is used to scan the inside of the stomach. This long, flexible tube, containing many lenses, has a tiny electric bulb at one end and an open piece at the other. The throat is anesthetized to curb gagging. Then the instrument is passed into the mouth and follows the same pathway as our food (the esophagus), finally reaching the gastric pouch.

With the light turned on, the gastroscope (the fellow who is peering) is able to see the interior of the structure. While the device is not exactly rigid, it cannot bend sufficiently to go around corners. Hence the operator is not able to see every nook and cranny. But this does not detract from the merit of the procedure because the greater part is still visible and can be observed in detail.

The gastroscope is not used on every patient with digestive symptoms. It is recommended when a questionable or ill defined lesion has been discovered which needs additional scrutiny. Perhaps the X-ray revealed an irregularity which has some of the characteristics of an ulcer but could represent an unusual fold in the membrane, or even cancer. Sometimes the examination is necessary in those whose tests fail to explain their distress. Here it serves as a means of doing everything possible to track down the source of trouble.

The bronchoscope is related somewhat to the gastroscope except that it is utilized to explore the windpipe and bronchial tubes. The plan is valuable in investigating many lung conditions, including cancer. Bits of suspected tumor tissue can be extracted and sent to the laboratory for analysis. This process is extremely important as malignancies of the lung are now cured by chest surgery and, before the patient is willing to consent to such an extensive operation, a positive diagnosis gives the needed assurance that heroic measures are essential.

The tracheostomy is employed also in treatment. It has proved to be lifesaving in infants and youngsters who accidentally inhale a foreign body which obstructs the breathing passages. Every once in a while we read of a child being flown half way across the continent to a medical center where the article can be removed. Experts in this field often accumulate an astonishing collection of unusual objects which they have fished out.

Considerable ingenuity is often required and now and then a safety pin, which is caught deep in a lung, must be closed before it can be taken out. A suction apparatus may be attached to the bronchoscope to draw out thick, tenacious mucus which is plugging the airways. It is possible to drain some lung abscesses internally, thus sparing the victim a more serious operation from the outside.

INSULIN PRODUCTION
T. H. R. writes: Could insulin be developed in the body by eating and drinking the substances that insulin is made of? If so, would it be possible to eliminate the use of injections?

REPLY
Chemically, insulin is a complicated protein. All of the necessary ingredients are obtained thru the diet. These elements are put together in their proper form by the magic touch of the pancreas. In the diabetic, however, the gland lacks this ability, hence your plan would not be practicable.

SEVERAL ORIGINS
C. A. writes: My doctor tells me my heart and kidneys are weak, yet various parts of my body (legs, eyelids, etc.) swell after exercise. What are some other possibilities?

REPLY
The glands (endocrine system) must be taken into consideration and blood tests should be made to ascertain whether the amount of protein in the serum is within normal limits.

It Says Here

By BOB ROSE

A great many movie stars have given up their homes in Hollywood and can commute all the way from the east when they make a picture. Gene Tierney just set up house-keeping in New York and Katharine Hepburn has been commuting from her home in Connecticut.

Gene Tierney never was a real Californian anyway. I've heard that in the morning she used to drink some strange sort of concoction called "coffee" instead of delicious steaming hot orange juice like everybody else.

And Katie likes to get away because people here never understand the Hepburn accent.

But commuting is nothing new. Rex Harrison commutes all the way from England. It's very nice for the English colony here every time he comes in from London. Rex never fails to bring along a sack of crumpled crumbs for C. Aubrey Smith to rub in his mustache.

And Greer Garson has been commuting from the beach for quite a while. It's very handy. During February she can just step out of the door and the tide will carry her clear to Culver City.

But I like to commute by plane. The new air schedules are wonderful. It's hard to believe that today you can get up; have breakfast in Hollywood; and in less than twelve hours you can be grounded in Palm Springs.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Tanforan Race Track Crowd Due For Slapdown Today; Judge George Harris Initiated Contempt Citation Himself; Washington Passes The Buck.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 30.—For months operators of race tracks, roller-coaster and gambling casinos have been letting veterans housing take a back seat while they thumbed their noses at building controls. Tomorrow (March 31) however, the famous Tanforan Race Track near Palo Alto, Calif., is scheduled for a slapdown from forthright U. S. Judge George B. Harris in San Francisco.

Behind this is some highly interesting background showing how a little group of men, if sufficiently ruthless, can give the Government the runaround, while the boys who lived in fire holes continue to pound the pavements looking for apartments.

The story begins back last June 2 and June 22 when this columnist called the attention of Civilian Production officials to the wholesale thwarting of building controls by the Tanforan Race Track and suggested that something be done about it.

Something was done—despite the screams of anguish from the race track boys, who not only denied this columnist's allegations but threatened a libel suit and all sorts of other dire consequences.

Civilian Production officials promptly issued an order stopping the use of new building materials in the reconstruction of the track which had been used by the Navy during the war. To some builders this action would have been sufficient to remind them of their alleged patriotism. They would have remembered all the fine wartime promises made to the boys who were winning battles, and hung their heads in shame. But not the Tanforan Race Track crowd. To them watching the ponies romp home and listening to the cash register click was much more important than keeping wartime pledges.

Appealing To Washington
So they appealed the Government's order, and again were turned down. Then they appealed a second time, going into Federal Court to ask that the Government's order be set aside. In October U. S. Judge Adolphus St. Sure said NO. Tanforan was permitted to use its own salvage materials, but nothing more.

But the Tanforan race track-ers were avaricious, also tenacious. In December they filed a new appeal in San Francisco and also went over local officials' heads to Washington. And though Washington turned them down, they quietly went ahead with their building plans, spending an alleged total of $300,000 on new materials during the period they were under orders not to spend anything.

For some strange reason, however, the Government did nothing about this—not until very recently. Criminal Action At Reno
At Reno, Nevada, however, officials were more forthright. On June 22, this columnist reported that lumber for the Tanforan Race Track "went to build a gambling house at Lake Tahoe, Nev., owned in part by E. W. Heple, Tanforan's contractor. The Tanforan people claimed all this lumber went to veterans." The Merry-Go-Round stated, "but this is not true. Actually part of it went to a gambling house in direct violation of a CPA order."

This column was also denied—with especial vigor. However, the payoff came when U. S. District Attorney Miles Pike at Reno brought a criminal action against Heple and his associates in the "Tahoe Sky Harbor Casino." They were fined $7,500.

Meanwhile, near Palo Alto, Calif.—Herbert Hoover's home town—the Tanforan boys continued to fix up their race track, grandstands, cafeteria, paddock and barn at a total reported cost of around $2,000,000.

—despite the repeated orders of the Federal Government. Their flouting of the Government appeared so willful that rumor got around that they had an "in" with somebody very high up.

So far this rumor is unconfirmed. It remains a fact, however, that while criminal action was brought by the U. S. District Attorney in Reno, no criminal move was made by officials in San Francisco.

Finally, however, officials bestrided themselves and started civil action. Instead of punishing Tanforan for their willful violations, the Civilian Production Administration merely asked Judge Harris for an injunction to stop building operations. The injunction was granted.

This was on Feb. 14. But even an injunction by a Federal Court did not seem to faze the race-track boys. For on March 21, Judge Harris cited Tanforan officials for contempt of court for allegedly willfully violating his restraining order. The hearing on this violation takes place today.

Passing The Buck
However, the interesting thing about this contempt citation was that the judge himself initiated it. He ordered the U. S. Attorney, Frank J. Hennessy, to prepare the citation. CPA officials, apparently, were standing on the sidelines doing nothing about Tanforan's continued use of building materials.

Nevertheless, the fact remains that for some unexplained reason there has been no criminal action against Tanforan.

PITCHING HORSESHOES
by Billy Rose
Eleanor picked up my pencil and broke it.
"It's Spring outside, Mr. Hemingway," she said. "How about playing hockey today and devoting a little time to Mama?"
I opened the window and stuck my head out. A sweet-smelling breeze was playing tag with the would-be trees on Beckman Place.

"Don't tell the trunk officer," I flipped, "but you've got yourself a playmate. How would you like to spend the day?"
"Poetry, art and music," chirped the fire captain's daughter.

"Show me something gay and green," I said.
He put a still-wet canvas up on the easel. It was a picture of a pile driver hammering a nude into an oncleit. "There," he said proudly. "Doesn't that give you the feeling of April?"

"April must have changed since I was a girl," dead-panned Eleanor. The Whitney Museum is interested in this one," said the artist, switching canvases. On a background of steel springs and gray fuzz, he had painted a sardine with a fig newton in its mouth, leering at a chemical formula.

"I call it 'Serenade to a Pussy Willow,'" he gloved. "You won't believe it, but when I started I had no idea what the picture was going to be."
"When you finished, how did you find out what it was?" I asked.
Eleanor, poking around in a corner of the studio, found something with green on it. "This is more like it," she enthused.

"That," snarled the artist, "is where I clean my brushes!"
We left. As we went down the stairs, I thought I heard Bromney

Growing Tendency To Replace Worker With Machines Cited

By ROGER W. BABSON

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Wherever you look, you uncover a growing tendency to replace employees with machines. This widespread movement calls for the closest attention of wage-workers and businessmen alike. In its practical reaction upon you and your family, the rising pace of mechanization should overshadow, by far, the gossip of Hollywood and the debates at Washington. This trend has been gathering momentum so long that we are likely to forget it. It will not forget us. Scan the industrial news in detail and you feel the vast sweep of today's tide. It bears news of the future for both insiders and stockholders.

Both Inside and Outside Jobs
Few groups in the nation will be able to stand complacently at the curbside and watch this forward March Of The Iron Men. The robots are not confined within factory walls. Swift changes are appearing in the farm regions, where modern equipment is taking over an ever-growing share of all farm operations. In the trucking of heavy shipments, there will be less of human struggle and the old heave-ho. At the tail-end of the truck, muscle power will be replaced by mechanical lift. In many of the service trades, the scene is changing through introduction of pre-packaging, self-serving, coin vending, and other modernism.

Mechanical devices are invading the last strongholds of personal labor. For instance, the job of inspection heretofore has seemed to require human senses for which no mechanism could be substituted. Yet electronic and other mechanical checks now perform with a speed and certainty which outclass humans. Heretofore, the assembling of parts into a complete article has been very difficult to mechanize; but I definitely forecast its accomplishments. The all-automatic production plant is more than a comic-strip phantasy.

Will Reach Into Every Home
A white collar is no badge of immunity. Working in cooperation with the Armed Services, technical institutions have contrived brain-work machines. These are now solving problems in mathematics entirely beyond the capacity of any accountant. No job or business can afford to ignore this universal drift. For better or for worse, most of us are bound to collide, sooner or later, with the floodtide of mechanism. It will influence all human activities.

History reveals, with appalling certainty, that the onrush of machinery cannot be opposed successfully. It will over-ride any opposition from labor groups, industrial competitors, legislators, or ideologists. From earliest days, mechanical revolutions have rolled ahead against the most savage opponents. This is because machinery increases production. Any agency which can do that is all-powerful. Mechanization can be put to the service of good or evil.

Opportunities Outweigh the Perils
As an industry becomes mechanized, instead of manual, it tends to expand. In the end it will open more jobs than it closes. Furthermore, there is every reason why such new jobs should grade higher than the old. Analysis of the mechanics of inventing, making, maintaining, and bettering the machinery of today and tomorrow. Surely such expert occupation is a step ahead of primitive toil. To capitalize the opportunity, however, will demand that all of us must modernize our attitudes. Labor and management alike must set their sights on goals that are creative, constructive and productive.

The potential trouble lurking in today's trend is that the facilities and equipment can become ultra-modern while our social thinking remains medieval. This we must avoid. If the current boom in education does its work aright, we must develop a public which will be schooled in sound economics and aware of the spiritual values. Only as these factors are added to mechanization can we be assured of higher standards of living and working.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Etiquette for Listeners
Emily Post, according to "Today's Woman," feels there should be a code of etiquette for radio listeners, based on respect for those performing on the air waves. Mrs. Post's code, which shall be immediately enshrined in my collection under "Listening Habits, Female," are pretty rigid, as you shall see.
"No matter what the occasion, whether it's symphony, forum discussion or comedy, interruptions are not permitted." Says "Today's Woman." "If the telephone rings, the caller is informed that Mrs. Post is busy and will call you back. Unexpected visitors have the choice of waiting or returning another time. Should they choose to stay, they are ushered into chairs, much as they would be in the theater, concert or lecture hall, and confronted with a card that says 'Quiet Please.'"

As one of Mrs. Post's most slavish followers, I'm happy to hear her solution of a problem that must have confronted all of us. My own custom, when I have to say "sash" and it has never worked very well. My friends, an obstreperous crew, don't sash easily. Even when I succeed in quieting them, they make funny faces, Mrs. Post, and it distracts me. One of them wiggles his ears. In a "Quiet Please" sign, but I'm not at all confident it will work as well with my friends as it does with Mrs. Post's. My friends are likely to burst right out laughing.

Unexpected visitors, you say, have the choice of waiting or returning another time. Well, I don't know how that will work either but I'll try.
"You'll have to wait or return another time," I can hear myself saying. "I'm listening to Milton Berle."

"He's a comedian on the radio and interruptions are not permitted. There's a new code of etiquette based on respect for those performing on the air waves. You'll just have to go away."
He'd probably go away all right and never come back.

WAR AND PEACE: The National Broadcasting Company, a rather mutton something about "Uptown Philistines."
"Well, there's still the concert," I said to Eleanor. We taxied up to Town Hall where the Friends of Modern Music were sponsoring a program of Milhaud, Antheil and Honegger.

As we took seats, I whispered to my wife, "We're just in time. The orchestra's still tuning up."
A lady with a hairdo like a sheep-dog snushed me and snapped, "The concert has been on for half an hour!"

There were some unusual musical instruments on the platform—a typewriter, an African zanza, a riveting hammer, and a pussycat that meowed on cue. The violinists kept rapping their knuckles on the backs of the fiddles, and every so often an intense musician hit a sheet of tin with a bag of marbles.
The music sounded like a truck full of milk cans colliding with a truck full of live chickens.

I looked at my program. "Springtime in Springfield," it read.
Suddenly a musician in the rear of the orchestra pointed a revolver at the conductor.

I sprang to my feet. "Grab that man," I shouted. "He has a gun!"
The lady with the doggy hairdo tapped me on the shoulder. "You're making an ass of yourself," she barked. "The third movement calls for three pistol shots."

The ushers didn't have to throw me out.
As Eleanor and I fled up Sixth Avenue, something wet bounced off my cheek. "Looks like we're going to have some snow tonight," I said. "Oh, boy!" said my missus, enthusiastically. "That's for me!"

austere organization of great power and prestige, has adopted some of the panoply and ritual of the United States Army. The pages over there are uniformed and stiff as general leutenants, the chain of command, particularly in the higher echelons, is clearly defined. The other day the press agent staff at N. B. C. sent a memorandum to editors boldly marked CONFIDENTIAL. My secretary, who is as security conscious as any brigadier general in the United States, committed the contents to memory, then carefully chewed up the memorandum and swallowed it.

STATISTICS IN OUR TIME: The Advertising Council announces that in 1946 the radio industry contributed public service messages on housing to the amount of 801,435-000 listener impressions. That is 54 listener impressions for every man, woman and child in the United States. You didn't get your quota of listener impressions, complain to your local station. You're clearly entitled to 54.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Honor
The sights and instances that come before me, often in the unexpected places, emphasize the widespread honor among human beings. In a recent copy of the Newark Star-Ledger, I read a piece about the parking meters in Newark. Out of 6,650,000 nickels collected there were only 384 slugs! Quite some change for the honor of folks in a great city, such as Newark. And this over a five year period!

Ever since the traffic lights were first installed in the country, the honor among drivers in obeying them has been increasing. The percentage of those who violate them is very small. In the final analysis it's to the advantage of the driver himself to obey such traffic signals. He gets away with nothing when he refuses. He might do away with his own life!

I used to take lunch in a downtown restaurant in New York City, where you went around and selected your food—price marked plainly on each item—and then, without any check given, you told the cashier just what your charge should be. I asked the proprietor if he lost much money from plans like this and he replied that it was almost nothing. People put on their honor take pride in asserting it.

The one who cheats in school to gain a temporary advantage in his studies, or at an examination period, gains nothing. He may even pass out of his school, but when he gets into the business of life, in competition with his peers, he can't cheat and get away there. There he will learn from practical experience that honor pays—and pays big!

It is honor that embellishes a good name—and you can recall the proverb that "a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." People who are honorable in all their dealings with their fellow man, go forward. It is not only the best policy but the only policy that leads to any success worth while. There is a sense of satisfaction in always being honorable, that nothing can replace.

Morgan County Tomato Festival May Be Dropped

By MARIE MERRBACH

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., March 30 (AP) — The Morgan County tomato festival, an annual undertaking here over the Labor Day holiday before the war, will be passed over this year and there is doubt that it will resume at all, one of its organizers said today.

The expense involved and the difficulties experienced in the wake of growing popularity of the event have almost made such an undertaking prohibitive in a community of this size. Hudson Yost, Jr., head of the Young Men's Business Club when the festival was initiated, reported.

Yost said that from an original budget of about $2,000 the cost of the festival had grown to about $8,000 and raising the money has become an increasingly difficult task.

THERE IS NO EXCUSE FOR A TELEPHONE STRIKE

Company Has Offered to Arbitrate Basic Wage Demands

TELEPHONE employees are well paid.

Wages paid to employees in Maryland, represented by the Unions, have gone up 56% in the last six years!

Wage rates are now at the highest level in the history of the business.

They are well in line with wages paid by other businesses in the community for work requiring similar skill and training. This has been our policy. It is in keeping with our obligations to the entire community. To make sure it is carried out we are continually comparing telephone wages with other wages in the community.

Our present contracts with the Unions already provide for regular increases at specified intervals until a maximum wage rate is reached for each job. So the large majority of telephone employees would continue to receive regular increases under the existing contracts.

Furthermore, telephone people enjoy steady employment, good working conditions, and extra pay for evening, night or Sunday work. They also have eight holidays and up to three weeks vacations with pay each year, sickness benefits and pensions, with the entire cost paid by the Company.

Considering all these facts, we believe that our present contracts with the Unions are very liberal. And we have repeatedly offered to renew these contracts. One Union, Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, Inc., has agreed to a renewal.

Company Has Offered to Arbitrate

Within the past few days we have offered to arbitrate the basic wage demands made by the Unions representing the employees of this Company. We believe that our wages are fair, and we are willing to have this test made.

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City

National or Local Bargaining?

The demands of the Unions follow a national pattern. But the vast majority of the service we furnish is local in nature. The rates which our customers pay for this service are regulated by the state regulatory body. This Company in the past has always bargained and made contracts locally with representatives of the local Unions. The Company and the representatives of the Unions are familiar with the local conditions and they are in the best position to negotiate a contract to meet conditions in this community. This is the best way it can be done for a state regulated public service company.

Here's What the Unions' Demands Mean

An increase to employees in Maryland ranging from $12 to $33 per week.
$15,170,000 annual increase in the cost of furnishing telephone service.
90% increase in the Company's total wage payments for 1946 to employees represented by the Unions.
6 times the total earnings of the Company in 1946.
It amounts to $3.79 per month for every telephone subscriber.

A telephone strike is a serious thing. It's bad for the public, bad for our employees, bad for this Company. We are willing to arbitrate the basic wages for the em- (One Union, Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, Inc., has agreed to a renewal). We are willing to discuss any reasonable solution which will be fair to the employees, to the telephone users and to the investors in the business. We are willing to arbitrate the basic wages for the employees of this Company.

There is no excuse for a telephone strike.

AMVETS DEFEAT WASHINGTON CLIFTONS TO CLOSE SEASON

Locals Take Game By 53-48 Score

By JOHN L. BORCHERT
Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Cumberland Professional Amvets closed their 1946-47 season on a sweet note with a thrilling 53-48 revenge triumph over the Washington Cliftons from the capital city before a crowd of 500.

With Bob Pence and "Pooch" Orndorff showing the way in the first half and Lou Bell supplying the spark during the last two periods, the Amvets won their 16th game in 26 starts this season, and atoned for a 76-66 loss to the Cliftons at Washington a week ago.

"Pooch" Orndorff opened the scoring with a set and after George Garber and Acky Viana had tied the score on charity tosses, Orndorff hit the basket from way out and the green clad warriors led 4-2. Acky Viana stepped into the picture with a long shot and a lay-up goal to send the Cliftons ahead 6-4. Orndorff slipped two points through the hoop to tie the score again and Bob Pence followed with another fielder as the Amvets stepped in front 8-6. Fighting doggedly the Cumberland team ran the count of 15-9 at the quarter.

Locals Take Lead
Oble Oberhaus and Roy McNeil traded baskets as the second period opened and then Pence and Orndorff sandwiched set shots around John Lumpkin's free throw to give the Amvets a 21-12 margin, the largest held by either team during the game. The capital team began to click as Lene Mills scored on a lay-up. Lumpkin got two points and Mills one at the foul line and Viana talked on a lay-up to make it 21-19 Amvets. Pence made a free throw and Garber got a basket to close the half with the Cumberland outfit on top 22-21.

Baskets by Eddie Phillips and Garber as the third canto got underway jumped Washington into a 25-22 lead. Sets by Pence and Bell put the Amvets in front 26-25 and Phillips tied the count at the foul line as the battle raged. Gus Frizzell made two-for-two at the 15 foot line and Bell tallied a basket to make it 30-26. Amvets. The Cliftons roared back as McNeil scored two baskets and Semert one to put the Cliftons ahead 32-30. Bell interrupted with a charity throw but Garber hit from the corner and Viana scored on a one-hander to raise the count to 36-31, Cliftons. That was the extent of the Washington attack as the Amvets came back to take the lead for the final time. Bell slipped a lay-up through the hoop, Pence hit on a set, and Bell added a free throw toss to tie the count at 36-36. Pence, Bell, and Pence hit in that order as Cumberland moved to a 42-36 lead at the quarter.

McNeil sandwiched baskets around Norm Mason's twin-pointers to make it 44-40. Amvets with 7:30 left McNeil made one of two charity tosses as Orndorff left the game on five personals. Bell sliced the net from the corner making the score 46-41. Amvets. John Semert pushed in a rebound and Lumpkin got a free shot to close the gap to 46-44. Frizzell and Semert traded baskets and Lumpkin added a point from the foul line as the Cumberland Pros led 48-47 with two minutes remaining. Bob Pence squashed what hope the capital boys may have had with a set from the right of the foul circle and Mason came through with a fielder and charity toss to run the count to 53-47 with only one minute left. In those last sixty seconds of play Garber converted from the foul line and the whistle ended the game seconds after with the Amvets on top 53-48.

Bel Rams Wild
Lou Bell went scoreless during the first half of play but got six baskets and two for four at the foul line to lead the Green and White cagers with 14 points. Bob Pence came in second with 13 markers. Roy McNeil topped the Cliftons with 13 points.

"Pooch" Orndorff received the City Furniture War Bond Award for being the outstanding player in last week's game. Orndorff follows Pence and Bell in winning the award. This week's winner will be decided later at a Gus Frizzell and Oberhaus each received two of the five votes cast for this week's winner. Bob Pence got the other vote.

The loss for the Washington team was their fourth in 27 starts. Previous to this game they had dropped three contests to the same team—the Richmond Barons.

Bi-State League Tentatively OK's 1947 Schedule

A schedule of 28 games for each team, 14 at home and 14 away, was tentatively adopted at a meeting of the Interstate Baseball League held in Ridgeley yesterday afternoon. Final action on the schedule will be taken at the next meeting of the League which will be held at the American Legion Home in Moorefield, W. Va., Sunday, April 13.

Under the schedule, submitted yesterday, the teams would play on 18 Sundays, four Saturdays and three holidays. There are 13 open dates on Saturdays which can be used in case of postponed games. None of the dates set up in the schedule conflict with home games of the Bi-State League in Cumberland. The season will open on May 4 and will close on Labor Day, the first Monday in September.

A committee was appointed yesterday to make arrangements for an All-Star game between the Bi-State and Interstate Leagues. The game will probably be played on Saturday, August 30, an open date in both leagues. The committee from the Interstate League is composed of William Spangler, umpire-in-chief, chairman; Art Garbarik, manager of the Fort Cumberland team; and American Legion team; and G. Ray Lippold, secretary of the league.

Bi-State Players Contracts Submitted

A routine meeting of the Bi-State Baseball League was held in Midland yesterday afternoon at which time players contracts were submitted. Alexander "Pop" Nicol, president of the league announced.

Nicol said that this year all players contracts must be signed by the president of the league and that a player must be signed 48 hours before becoming eligible to play in a league game. Contracts were submitted by Hyndman, Frostburg, Lonaconing and Queen City Brewery of Cumberland.

Umpires were present and a number of matters in connection with the season were informally discussed. The league will open on Sunday, April 27.

Greenberg, With Ailing Elbow, Is In Best Shape In Past Six Years

Thinks He Can Play Four More Seasons

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Except for a stiffness in his right arm, Hank Greenberg is in the best physical shape he has been in the past six years and expects a good year with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The hard hitting outfielder can't account for the puzzling ailment. He can't even remember how he got it. All he knows is that he awoke one morning, about three or four days before he headed south to join the Pirates, feeling a sharp pain in his right elbow. The arm was almost doubled up and he couldn't straighten it out.

When Greenberg arrived at Miami Beach, he didn't say anything about it because he felt that people might get the wrong idea. He didn't want to start his career with the Pirates with an alibi. Besides, he thought, regular work might get the kink out. Instead of getting better, the arm grew worse and finally he yielded to Manager Bill Herman's advice to rest it for several days.

The American League home run king has been taking whirlpool baths daily, soaking his right arm in hot water. He believes it has helped. He expects to be back in the lineup in a few days.

Despite the ailment, Hank has worked out every day. Always a conscientious, hard working performer, the six-foot, four-inch outfielder is as busy as any rookie.

"I feel great," Greenberg declared. "In fact, I haven't felt this good since I left for the Army in 1941."

Hank said he has forgotten all about the unpleasantness brought on by his sudden dismissal by the Tigers last winter.

"I'm glad I changed my mind about retiring," he said. "The Pittsburgh owners and officials have treated me swell. I hope I can repay them for their kindness and I think I can. The way I feel now, I can play for four years yet."

Action On Sports "Fix" Is Taken By Many States

CHICAGO, March 30—(AP)—A growing number of states are getting ready to crack down on the sports "fix."

The Council of State Governments said today that several states had taken legislative action in the wake of recent widely publicized attempts to bribe contestants in sports events.

Georgia, Indiana, Maryland and New Jersey already have enacted laws providing jail sentences for anyone giving or accepting money to "fix" a sports contest, and Connecticut, Ohio, Wisconsin and other states are considering similar measures.

The Indiana anti-fix bill, passed unanimously, provides fixers or contestants accepting bribes be subject to maximum imprisonment of five years and fines as high as $10,000. The new law also provides for fine and imprisonment of contestants or officials who solicit bribes.

Penalties up to three years in jail and a $1,000 fine for fixers and bribe-takers is provided under Maryland's newly enacted clean sports law. The measure reinforces a 1941 statute forbidding outsiders from "tampering with" or offering bribes to anyone connected with a sports contest.

The New Jersey law sets a maximum fine of $5,000 and maximum jail sentence of seven years for persons convicted of giving, accepting or handling sports bribes. The Georgia Legislature enacted a bill providing a maximum five year jail sentence for persons involved in sports bribery. The measure also imposes heavy penalties for gambling on sports.

Ohio representatives passed and sent to the Senate a measure providing a fine of from $1,000 to $5,000 or imprisonment of from one to five years for bribing or attempting to bribe participants or officials of a sports contest. Similar punishment was provided for soliciting or accepting a bribe.

3 Ring Champions To Swing Into Action This Week

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Three ring champions and a former titleholder swing into action this week in a heavy National Boxing program.

The parade of champions will be started off Monday night in San Francisco when Bob Montgomery, the New York-Pennsylvania recognized lightweight king takes on Jesse Flores of Stockton, Calif., in a non-title ten rounder.

Tony Zale, the hard-hitting middleweight titleholder from Gary, Ind., sharpens up his punches against Cleveland's Al Timmons in a scheduled ten Tuesday at Kansas City, Kas., with the crown not at stake. Zale is saving that battle for a big money shot this summer against either Rocky Graziano or Marcel Cerdan, the Morocco Mauler.

On Thursday night, Ray (Sugar) Robinson, the welterweight boss, moves to Akron, O., to square off opposite Sidney Miller of Detroit in another non-title ten.

Harold Gade, the young Chicago negro, who won the bantamweight crown from Manuel Ortiz and lost it back to him within a space of a couple of months, faces Tony Oliveira of San Francisco in a ten at Oakland, Calif., Wednesday.

Monday: at Pittsburgh, Juste Fontaine, Milwaukee, vs. Bobby Ruffin, New York, lightweight, 10; at Baltimore, Smuggers Hursey, Washington, vs. Cyclone Williams, New York, middleweights, 10.

Thursday: at Philadelphia, Eddie Gioia, Philadelphia, vs. Lulu Constantino, New York, lightweight, 10.

Friday: at Asbury Park, N. J., Wally Baden, Scranton, Pa., vs. Bill Gilliam, Newark, N. J., heavyweights, 8.

Middlecoff, Schoux Tie In Tournament

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 30—(AP)—Two recent graduates from the amateur ranks, Cary Middlecoff, Memphis dentist, and George Schoux of San Francisco, representing the Winged Foot Club of Mamaroneck, N. Y., tied for the $10,000 Charlotte Open Golf title today with 11-under-par-totals of 277.

They will meet in an 18-hole playoff, the second in the four year history of this tournament, tomorrow.

Middlecoff, who shot a sparkling 65 yesterday, put together two rounds of 71 today, while Schoux closed with a 69, moving from a third place tie at the end of 54 holes.

Middlecoff was tied with E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of York, Pa., at the end of 54 holes.

Jackie Robinson May Play First For Brooklyn

HAVANA, March 30—(AP)—Jackie Robinson, the first negro to break into modern organized baseball, may open the season at first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Still the property of the Montreal farm club where he led the International League with a 349 average last year, Robinson remains a "no comment" case among Dodger officials. Neither President Branch Rickey nor Manager Leo Durocher has anything to say for the records but there is an enthusiastic undercurrent of opinion in camp booming Jackie as the answer to the Brooks' first base problem.

Rickey is leaving the matter up to Durocher and Durocher is leaving it up to Robinson on a "show me" basis. So far Robinson has been showing plenty. He has collected six hits in 11 at bats for .545 but presently he is bothered by a sudden attack of colitis which might upset all calculations.

An important Brooklyn scout lists him as "terrible" and says "he's as much at home on first as if he had been playing the bag all his life." Yet he has played first only 10 days.

This may be a little over-enthusiastic for Robinson is a bit bewildered by some of the inner strategy of playing first. After all he always played shortstop in the Negro League, was made over into a second baseman in 1946 and now is called upon to try another position.

Rickey explained his failure to advance Robinson from Montreal last winter, when most of the farm players were moved up, as a strategic move. He pointed out that Jackie was not subject to the baseball draft but admitted that he really, wanted Durocher and the Dodger players to demand his advance on the basis of what they would see this spring.

Large areas of Missouri fishing waters were opened to anglers March 15.

Gil Dodds Retires Banker Mile Trophy

CHICAGO, March 30—(AP)—They'll have to dig up a new trophy for the Bankers Mile which Gil Dodds, the bounding Bostonian, won for the third time as he missed his own American indoor record by only four-tenths of a second in the Chicago Relays Saturday night.

At that, the serious-faced galloper streaked to the fastest indoor mile of the season, 4:06.8, as he thrilled a Chicago Stadium crowd of 17,632.

Copping his 22nd mile triumph and his eighth straight this season, Dodds tried hard, but just not quite hard enough to reach the record 4:06.4 performance he uncorked in the Banker feature in 1944.

In winning the race three times—accomplished only once before, by Lloyd Hahn of Boston, Gil's coach—Dodds retired the Melvin A. Traylor Trophy.

The prancing parson beat Gerald Karver of Penn State by half a lap as he flitted the first quarter in 59 seconds, covered the half in 2:02, and reached the three-quarter mark in 3:05.

Calvary To Meet St. Johns Team For League Title

St. John's Johnnies and Calvary Methodist Blackhawks will meet next Saturday afternoon at the Y in a game which will determine the champion of the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League.

Unbeaten Calvary had little trouble in walloping St. Mark's 52 to 31 while St. John's won the right to meet Calvary in the final by turning back the United Brethren 36 to 27 in a game that was a thriller from start to finish.

Lindsay, Calvary center scored 26 points while D. Loy was second with 12. For St. Johns Cage with 12, Birmingham with nine and Wolfe with eight were best for the Johnnies.

Ramblers Win Easily

The Ridgeley Ramblers trounced the Tri-Square team of Hagerstown, 54 to 20 in a game played at the Hagerstown YMCA Saturday night.

DO YOU KNOW

that in at least twenty-three states a person who fails to pay a judgment in an automobile or other damage suit can be jailed until he does pay?

No matter how carefully you drive, it is easy for the other party to charge you with carelessness and if he has witnesses and you have none it is just TOO, TOO bad. Protect yourself with automobile insurance.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

NEW YORK, March 30 — The best thing Loretta Young has ever done on the screen is "The Farmer's Daughter" in which Miss Glamour comes up with the cutest Swedish accent on record. It's something so different for Loretta and so good that RKO wants to get her back in a hurry to start another character type role in "Rachel."

Well, I don't know how much of a "hurry" it will be since she has to finish the delayed "Bishop's Wife" for Sam Goldwyn first — but "Rachel" is scheduled to start in August.

It's a Howard Fast story about a pioneer woman of 1778 who encounters almost modern day problems keeping her marriage together. If Loretta keeps this up people will forget she was ever one of our best dressed glamour girls. Richard Berger produces.

Unfortunately, but true, that vandalism in theaters continues no matter how close a watch managers keep on teen agers. A couple of nights ago Kent Smith was sitting in a loge seat at the Fox-Ritz theater when a boy tossed a cup of water from the gallery on the star. Outside of dousing his clothes and the shock of the thing, Kent managed to take it — but a woman next to him became hysterical, particularly as the kid let out a loud scream of laughter as he poured the water. She was in such a frightened and shocked condition that she had to be helped from the theater. The best way to stop this sort of thing is to immediately turn up the house lights and evict the culprit in the full glare of everyone's attention.

Snapshots of Hollywood and New York collected at random: Ann Miller and her ex, Reese Miller, no speaker. He walked out of the Chanteclair when he spotted her with Phil Reed.

Eleanor Parker is in St. John's Hospital for a foot operation which means they'll shoot around her on "Voice of the Turtle."

That trip Maria Montez and Jean

Pierre Aumont planned to Paris is called off. So her sister, Lucia, who was to marry Jean Roy in France, weds in Hollywood instead.

Joan Crawford's tossing a big birthday party for Greg Butler next week. Wonder why she keeps on saying he isn't the important man in her life?

The girls get a break when the Friar Club opens in Hollywood next month. For the first time in the 35-year-old history of the famous actors club, women will be invited to attend. Now we'll learn what goes on behind the doors of a strictly stag club.

What's with Beverly Tyler and Tom Drake? She's lunched several times at Mike Lyman's with Bob Moon.

Talking to Barbara Stanwyck in London about our Broadcast Sunday night is getting to be daily routine. Barbara told me Sonja Henie attended the London premiere of "The Other Love" and that Sonja will be back in this country Wednesday. That should make Barthelme happy. He's been pining away.

When Jimmy Dunne closes in O'Neill's "Moon for the Misbegotten" in St. Louis he heads back to Hollywood to go into a Frank Borzage movie. Jimmy hasn't yet made up his mind whether he will reopen the show in New York next fall. The reviews were sour.

Harry Karl's ex-wife has been doing the spots with Sidney Greenspan, Chicago attorney, in Hollywood with movie production plans.

Walter Wanger's lawyer, David Tannenbaum, is here talking with Ingrid Bergman about final plans on "Joan of Lorraine" movie version.

Hear Bob Taplinger is giving the big rush to Ida Lupino on the coast.

As soon as I catch my breath, I want to get around to see some of the big hits and say "hello" to my New York friends I haven't seen in over two years. Believe me, two years is too long to stay away from this fascinating town. But, as Sidney Skolsky says, don't get me wrong, I love Hollywood.

That's all today.
